Persons who are not licensed to practice law in this state or who are not otherwise permitted to represent others under federal law in an immigration matter may engage in the following services for compensation:

(1) Translate words on a government form that the person seeking services presents to the person providing translation services;

(2) Secure existing documents for the person seeking services. Existing documents include, for example, birth and marriage certificates; and

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1)(a) The legislature recognizes that immigrants in Washington need legal services to assist them in immigration matters, and it is difficult for existing organizations to meet those needs because of high case loads and limited resources.

(b) The legislature also recognizes that the difference between offering nonlegal services and offering legal services in immigration matters is sometimes difficult to distinguish. Not understanding or recognizing the distinction between nonlegal services and legal services in immigration matters can result in a person engaging in the unauthorized practice of law and can result in irreparable consequences for immigrants who seek assistance.

(2) Therefore, the legislature respectfully requests that the supreme court's practice of law board, within available resources, evaluate the following:

(a) The specific services nonattorneys may provide to immigrants that do not rise to the level of the practice of law in immigration matters;

(b) The level of access to and the quality of nonlegal and legal services immigrants have and the ways in which access and quality can be improved;

(c) The level of need immigrants have for nonlegal services compared to the need for legal services in immigration matters.

(3) A report of the board's findings and recommendations must be presented to the legislature no later than December 1, 2011."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Santos, seconded by Representative Ross, Representative Ryu's remarks were ordered spread upon the journal.

Representative Ryu's remarks on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5023: "There is one naturalized citizen in the House of Representatives and one in the Senate. I chose to become a citizen because I love America, my adopted homeland. I was born in Korea 4 years after the Korean War Armistice was signed. South Korea was still very poor in those days. To provide for his growing family, my Dad became a migrant worker in Southeast Asia. After living in Brunei and Manila, we landed at SeaTac Airport on Christmas Eve 1969. Coming to America was the best Christmas present my father and mother ever gave us. My parents told us as we packed, that we were moving, once again, to seek the American Dream; for my parents to find a way to feed, clothe, and educate their four children. As we were growing up, they reminded us repeatedly that my three brothers and I were in America to get a good solid education, which we did through Washington State's public education system. One brother is a doctor, another served as a Naval Officer and now is a senior director in charge of IT in a major corporation, and my baby brother, who is nearly 6' tall, is a Boeing engineer. Was it an easy path for my parents? No. They still speak English with a very thick accent. Am I thankful they made the sacrifices of leaving their familiar home, family and friends behind? Of course I am, because whether we are first generation, fourth generation or tenth generation Americans, I still believe it is possible for us all to dream, and achieve, our American dream and that's why I'm voting yes, because this bill is about protecting that American dream for all of us.”
